The Business Writing Assessment

Workplace writing needs to be clear and free of distractions such as poor grammar, misspellings, and extraneous information. After all, careless errors may lead the reader to believe there are also errors in the facts, and the wri

Score 4

A writing at this level has most of the ideas well developed with relevant supporting examples and details. The writing is organized and maintains consistent focus. Transitions are effective, if not especially varied. Sentences are generally varied in length and complexity. Word choice shows some precision and variety. The style and tone are consistent with standard business English. Relatively minor and/or infrequent errors in grammar and/or mechanics do not interfere with communication.

Score 3

A writing at this level has adequate development of ideas but is limited in depth and thoroughness. Supporting examples tend to be general and details are relevant, but they are repetitive. The writing is generally organized but may have minor lapses in focus. Transitions are simple. Sentences are usually correct, with some variety and complexity attempted. Word choice is generally clear and correct but may be repetitive and/or informal. The style and tone are consistent with standard business English but may be overly casual. Some errors in grammar and mechanics are apparent but do not interfere with communication. Basic spelling is correct.

Score 2

A writing at this level has thinly developed ideas that are not expanded and may be presented as a list. Although some organization is evident, the focus is unclear and/or inconsistent. Few or no transitions are used. Sentences are often simple or repetitive, with some noticeable errors in

When I was a junior in high school, I decided to take an advanced math class. I had always been good at math, but this would be a breeze. But once the class started, I realized that I was in for a challenge. The material was much harder than anything I had ever encountered before, and I quickly fell behind.

Student SelfEvaluation

After your employeevaluation is completed, you may begin your self-evaluation. The employability skills selfevaluation should consist of the following four paragraphs:

1. A description of the place you work and your job duties
2. Your areas of strength on the job
3. The areasri which you could improve
4. Your plans to improve and/or maintain your job performance

Include a topic sentence, several supporting sentences, and a concluding sentence in each paragraph. The selfevaluation must be word-processed but you do not need a cover sheet. Be honest!

Questions and Answers for Students and Parents

The Kenosha Unified School District (KUSD) is offering a program designed to provide another option to students who are unable to meet the credit requirements for receiving their high school diploma. The District believes the KUSD High School Competency Diploma Option will serve to decrease the number of dropouts and increase the number of high school graduates.

Students who are unable to meet the credit requirements to graduate with their cohorts are likely candidates to drop out of school and not graduate. With that in mind, the KUSD is offering a Competency Diploma that gives students an opportunity to graduate and to further their respective educational and career opportunities. Frequently asked questions and answers follow.

WHAT IS THE KUSD HIGH SCHOOL COMPETENCY DIPLOMA?

- x It is an alternate route to graduation in which a diploma is awarded to a small percentage of students who meet all requirements, including IOWA Assessments.
- x With this diploma, graduates can continue their education at the post-secondary level, join the military, or go directly to work. However, not all colleges, trade schools, businesses,
